Dear Sir or Madam:

The California Air Resources Board (ARB) staff invites you to participate in a public workshop on Alternative Diesel Fuels (ADF) Regulation reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

The ADF regulation provides a framework for new ADFs to enter the commercial market in California while mitigating potential environmental or public health impacts. The ADF regulation includes a three-stage environmental and performance review process for new ADFs, as well as in-use requirements for biodiesel.

The ADF regulation became effective January 1, 2016, and includes reporting and recordkeeping requirements applicable to entities in the biodiesel industry. Biodiesel producers, importers and blenders are required to report and keep records concerning biodiesel production, sales, and blending. Biodiesel distributors and retailers are only required to keep records.

Staff has developed and posted a reporting form on-line to assist regulated parties with organizing and reporting the information to comply with the ADF reporting requirements. The first quarter reports must be submitted by June 30, 2016. The reporting form is available under 'What's New' at: http://www.arb.ca.gov/fuels/adf/adf.htm.

Since the form was posted, staff has received feedback on the reporting form, and as a result, staff has decided to hold a workshop to help ensure our stakeholders understand the reporting and recordkeeping provisions of the ADF regulation. At the workshop, staff will present general and specific reporting and recordkeeping requirements for applicable parties. In addition, the workshop will include an opportunity for questions and feedback by stakeholders. Following the workshop, stakeholders may send additional feedback by email to adf@arb.ca.gov.

Prior to the workshop, the staff presentation will be posted at http://www.arb.ca.gov/fuels/adf/adf.htm.

The energy challenge facing California is real. Every Californian needs to take immediate action to reduce energy consumption. For a list of simple ways you can reduce demand and cut your energy costs, see our website: http://www.arb.ca.gov.
